Stranded pupils return to school

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster student and fellow team members are back in school after having been stranded in Sweden due to volcanic ash.

But their return came at a price as their school has been left with a hefty bill for alternative transport and accommodation.

Sixteen-year-old Chris Brown was on international duty with The Woodroffe School, Lyme Regis, taking part in the European Union Science Olympiad.

But it also turned out to be a geography trip as they got to see a lot more of Europe than they bargained for.

Team members were expected to fly back on Saturday, April 17th — but didn't set foot on British soil until Wednesday, April 21st after a long coach journey.

It was eventually decided to hire a coach with other stranded parties, which departed at 7am on the Tuesday morning and took the passengers through Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Holland, Belgium and France.

Chris arrived home at about 10.30pm on the Wednesday, and took the inconvenience in his stride by saying: "I've got exams coming up. It is a bit annoying I missed some school work but I managed to get some reading and typing done on the coach — but it was a bit of a setback."

His mum Sue said: "I knew he was going to be well looked after."

"The school kept us updated but it is the first time he has been abroad on his own and it is a long way. You just want him home."

The Woodroffe School and Thomas Hardy School, Dorchester, were this year's UK representatives in the EU Science Olympiad (EUSO), staged in Gothenburg.

The Lyme Regis team finished in the bronze category and EUSO co-ordinator Lin Harwood said: "There were 42 teams of three from 21 countries in EUSO this year."

The Woodroffe team was managed by teacher Christopher Sweetland, who praised team members Chris Brown, Richard Sale and Will Francis for their performance. But there was no praise for the UK government.

Mr Sweetland said the school's share of the bus hire came to about £2,000 alone — and there was also a bill for extra accommodation.

"It was not only an inconvenience. It was also very expensive," he said about the forced stay in Sweden.

He claimed that the UK teams were the only teams not getting funding from their government to participate in the EU Science Olympiad.

Because there is no funding for travelling or preparations, he said UK teams are disadvantaged.

"Other countries spend time practising paid for by their governments," he fumed.

Tractor run full in days

IT took only eight days for this year's Colyton Vintage Tractor Run to become fully subscribed.

Even if there were to be a few cancellations, a capacity 120 tractors are expected on the starting line as organisers have no shortage of names on the stand-by list.

The event is on Monday, May 31st and Ann Veit of Colyton Tractor Run said: "Eight days after the mailing of the entry forms the run was completely booked and entries are being returned to drivers.

"This is a special year as it is our 10th run. Started in 2000 to celebrate the Millennium, it has grown from 23 tractors to 120.

"Being the 10th run it is planned to start and finish in Colyton.

"As normal we will be starting from the Peace Memorial Playing Fields.

"The innovation is that we will return to the fairground field at Shiphay Farm courtesy of Bob Collier.

"Driver lunch will be served in a marquee kindly lent for the occasion by Colaton Raleigh and District Ploughing Association.

"A bar will be provided by the Colcombe Hotel and refreshments for the public will be available in the field.

"Our main sponsor, CRW Accountants, have paid the insurance for the run and the marquee.

"We are extremely grateful to everyone for their help.

"It should be a splendid day, weather permitting. The beneficiary this year will be Devon Air Ambulance Trust, very fitting as they were our first beneficiaries."

No deal for pizza place

NEGOTIATIONS to bring a pizza restaurant to the Swans building on the corner of West Street and Church Street, Axminster, have been terminated without a deal being struck.

Duncan Colvin of the Old Inn, Kilminster, said the search for another property is on.

In a statement issued on Friday, April 23rd, he explained: "There has been much speculation regarding our application for a premises licence for Swans.

"Indeed, I think many people are aware that in parallel to this application we were in negotiation with the owner of the property to agree terms for the lease.

"Our hope was to use this building to open a pizza restaurant and coffee stop.

"Sadly, however, we can confirm that we have now decided to withdraw from the negotiations and seek alternative premises for this project.

"My wife, Leigh, and I have had a great deal of support from people and our faith in Axminster as a location for this project is undiminished."

◆ PUPILS with Reverend Rosemary Bragg, The Bishop of Sherborne and headteacher Cliff Seabrook

Back in the nick of time for 50th bash

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@indlenews.co.uk

A HEADTEACHER just about made it to his school's 50th birthday bash after having been stranded in Spain.

Hawkchurch Primary School had invited The Bishop of Sherborne, Graham Kings, for a celebration on Thursday, April 22nd.

But headteacher Cliff Seabrook faced a battle to get back in time.

He should have returned from Malaga the previous Saturday but was a victim of the chaos caused by volcanic ash.

He eventually managed to fly from Malaga to London via Amsterdam, and touched down early the same day as the celebrations.

He said that the then bishop had opened the school 50 years ago, so it was fitting to invite the incumbent bishop for the birthday party.

The bishop, who is on The Liturgical Commission of the Church of England and will travel to Rome this week and meet the Pope, arrived at 1.15pm and presented pupils with commemorative mugs to mark the occasion.

A celebration and thanksgiving service followed in the nearby church to which past and present pupils, staff and governors had been invited.

The party then returned to the church where the bishop planted a tree and cut the birthday cake, which had been made by local resident Jean Ransford.

PTFA cash boost for college

FUNDRAISING by the parents, teachers and friends association (PTFA) at Axe Valley Community College resulted in cash boosts for a number of departments.

The PTFA invites teachers and support staff to bid for cash to buy things that would improve departments and be of benefit to students.

PTFA chairman Robin Cross said the committee recently met to discuss applications. It was decided to give the English department £300 to help pay for a poetry trip — and the maths department will have £170 towards equipment.

The PE department is to get £100 to buy a set of scooter boards — two-wheeled skateboards.

A sum of £500 was earmarked for outdoor benches and another £500 will be added to the The 100 Club. The club runs a regular prize draw, and the £500 will be added to the surplus from ticket sales and put to good use in due course.

Mr Cross said the money had been raised from various events, including a jumble sale earlier this year, which netted about £700 alone.

Next academical year will see the PTFA take on the challenge of raising money for a college mini-bus.

A number of events have been lined up for the near future, to which members of the public are welcome. There will be another jumble and plant sale at the college on Saturday, May 8th at 2pm.

A week later, on Saturday, May 15th, the PTFA will stage a fishing competition in Seaton. Anybody wishing to join the PTFA or find out more about forthcoming events is asked to call the college on 01297 32146.

Thought-provoking trip for two pupils

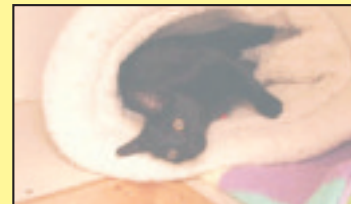

AXE Valley Community College students Polly Budden and Tanya Tribbell, both in Year 12, have been selected to travel abroad for a history lesson.

Along with 250 other students from across the region and Axe Valley's head of history, James Delany, they will go on a one-day trip to Auschwitz in Poland on Wednesday, April 28th.

They will get to see the concentration camps, and the trip is promoted by The Holocaust Education Trust, which works with history departments in schools and colleges to give students a personal insight into recent history.

Polly said: "We are so lucky to have this opportunity, and I cannot wait. I know it will be very interesting and thought-provoking."

Sophie helps firm promise to be greener

AXMINSTER Carpets aims to reduce energy usage by 20 per cent throughout the group, and become carbon neutral in five years.

To achieve this aim, the company is working with the University of Exeter through a government initiative known as Knowledge Transfer Partnership Scheme.

Sophie O'Callaghan has joined the company from the university with a first class honours degree in Environmental Science.

Having been selected from more than 40 high-grade applicants, the principal objectives of Sophie's three-year tenure are to reduce energy usage by 20 per cent throughout the group, investigate potential green energy sources and develop sustainable activities to work towards Axminster Carpets' ultimate ambition of a carbon neutral status within five years.

As part of the deal, Axminster Carpets can utilise the university's resources and a regular committee will track the progress of the scheme as well as Sophie's development.

Axminster Carpets MD Josh Dutfield said: "Our signing up to the Knowledge Transfer Partnership Scheme, and the appointment of Sophie, represent our ongoing commitment to reducing the environmental impact of the production and distribution of our carpets.

"We are passionate about the environment and believe achieving a carbon neutral status would be the next milestone on the long road to becoming sustainable.

"There is no short or temporary fix to sustainability and I am sure that Sophie will help us to make solid steps in the right direction."

Town crier rallies the local troops on St George's Day

TOWN crier Nick Goodwin did the rounds on Friday to get Axminster into the St George's Day spirit.

Sporting his own flag, the town crier rallied the troops and said: "I wish we had a national holiday.

"We should be celebrating St George's Day."

Axminster Inn also sported its own flag and town crier Goodwin is photographed with Vanessa Hart, Paul Latham, Sammy Brown and Emily Traynor.

The dog is named Sprocket and owner Sandra Sampson, who was passing by, said: "It is a very patriotic dog."

Men bailed

TWO men have been bailed pending further inquiries into allegations of common assault and battery in Axminster.

The men, aged 26 and 43, were arrested following an incident on an Axminster footpath involving a woman and a young child.

Police were called to a footpath off Stoney Lane at about 3.30pm on Thursday, April 22nd.

The police log had no details of injuries to the aggrieved.

A police spokesperson stressed it was not a random attack.

Altercation

AXMINSTER police have launched an investigation after two colleagues had a verbal altercation.

A spokesperson for Devon and Cornwall Police said two Axminster Carpets employees had a verbal altercation at work on Monday, April 19th. It is alleged that one of the employees then damaged the other employee's car windscreen.

The spokesperson said that no arrests have been made but statements are being taken and the investigation is ongoing.

Theft halted

AN attempt to steal lead from a property in Colyton was thwarted after the homeowner spotted the suspects in the act.

The incident took place at approximately 4am on Saturday, April 24th, in The Butts area of Colyton.

Despite police attending the scene, the suspect ran off and was not located. Anyone with information is asked to call Seaton police on 08452 777 444 quoting crime number KN/10/157.

Gearing up to welcome cycle tour back again

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

HONITON is gearing up to welcome Tour of Britain riders to the town for the second year in a row.

Devon County Council (DCC) and Somerset County Council (SCC) will be hosting another two stages of the tour on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 14th and 15th.

Stage four of The Tour of Britain will start at the Minehead and will finish 107 miles away in the south Devon town of Teignmouth. As the riders cross the Somerset border into Devon they will pass through Hemyock, Dunkeswell and Awliscombe and face a sprint into Honiton before a King of the Mountains climb on the A375 out of the town.

Stuart Hughes, DCC cabinet member for highways and transportation, said: "We're proud to be co-hosting another two stages of the Tour of Britain this year and we're delighted that we can continue to work closely with SCC to build on our success of recent years."

"Last year's tour was outstanding, with record crowds turning out to see the action.

"People in Devon and Somerset have really embraced the tour — the crowds provided a special atmosphere last time round and this is a perfect chance for them to show their support again."

"It's also an opportunity for visitors to see what an ideal destination our two counties are for cycling, which is great for our economy, and I'm sure this year's stages will provide another memorable occasion for spectators and a tough test for the riders."

More than a quarter of a million people turned out along the south west routes in 2009 to see the racing, generating almost £6 million for the Devon and Somerset economies. The streets of Honiton were packed with local school children waving flags and banners as the riders made their way through the town.

Hugh Roberts, of The Tour of Britain, said: "The two Devon and Somerset stages of the 2009 race were a great success, thanks to the large crowds and the vast number of school children that attended the stages."

"This also goes to show that cycling as a sport is growing exponentially in its national popularity. We at The Tour of Britain, together with our partners at DCC and SCC, are extremely pleased to be a key part of this process."

"The feedback from riders who took part in the 2009 event has been overwhelmingly positive, and our aim for the 2010 event is to put on another spectacular show for the crowds."

For more information about the tour visit www.tourofbritain.co.uk.

Youngsters' new play equipment unveiled at event

NEW play equipment for young children has been unveiled at Heathpark, Honiton.

Fundraiser days away

AN important fundraiser for The Minster Church in Axminster is only a few days away.

The annual May Fair starts at 10am on Saturday, May 1st, on the green outside the church.

Churchwarden and fair organiser Karen Wilkes said: "There will be lots of stalls including a cake stall, book stall, plants, tombola and refreshments including light lunches, which always prove popular."

"We are expecting Karizma Majorettes at 11am and are hoping for this sunshine to continue."

"Should it be wet we will move in to the church. We look forward to seeing you."

May display

MAY Day celebrations will take place at Combe Farm, Axmouth, on Monday, May 3rd, from 2pm until 5pm.

Growing publicity: front garden cover

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@findlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster garden adorns the cover of a countywide promotional booklet.

The garden at Prospect House greets everyone who picks up a copy of this year's Devon Gardens booklet, published by The National Gardens Scheme (NGS).

Listed in the booklet are dates and locations for the organisation's gardens open for charity scheme this season.

The scheme is very strong in Devon and has consistently raised a lot of money for the NGS charities over the last few years.

Even last year, with such a difficult summer and the recession, the Devon group of gardens took their total to £118,000 - compared to £109,000 the previous year.

NGS Devon publicity officer Alan Davies said: "This helped the NGS to donate over £500,000 to both Macmillan Cancer Support and Marie Curie Cancer Care together with other donations to Crossroads, Help the Hospices and many other nursing, caring and gardening charities.

"We have printed 68,000 copies and they are being distributed to tourist information centres, garden centres, bookshops, libraries and other outlets across the county."

Prospect Garden owner Peter Wadeley has planned two open weekends this year, on July 10th and 11th and August 21st and 22nd.

◆ PROSPECT Garden owner Peter Wadeley

He would like to hear from garden owners in east Devon wishing to join the scheme, and says it could be larger gardens or a number of smaller ones coming together for an event.

He can be contacted on 01297 631 210 or wadeley@btinternet.com

Those wishing to order a copy of the booklet should send a stamped, addressed A5 envelope to: Edward

Allhusen, Devon NGS, Sutton Mead, Moretonhampstead, Devon TQ13, 8PW. Full details and pictures of all the gardens are also available online at www.ngs.org.uk

Golfers' great shot at raising charity funds

By ANDERS LARSSON
anderson@tindlenews.co.uk

THE 2009 captain of Honiton Golf Club, Nick Richards, is "staggered" at the amount raised for Children's Hospice South West during his year at the helm. He praised all those who contributed to the £6,500 presented to the hospice during an event at the club on Thursday, April 15th.

Nick has been a supporter of Children's Hospice South West for many years and made it his chosen charity during his year as captain of the club.

The money will help the hospice to care for and support life-limited children and their families in the region.

Nick said: "I, along with my wife Sarah, have been members of the East Devon friends group for the Children's Hospice South West for over 10 years.

"So when I was honoured to become the captain of Honiton Golf Club, choosing a charity was not a difficult decision.

"I am staggered by the total amount raised, and would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone at Honiton Golf Club for their generosity and support for this very worthy cause."

Children's Hospice South West chief executive Eddie Farwell and his late wife Jill, who had two life-limited children, set up the charity in 1991 and opened Little Bridge House in Barnstaple in September 1995.

Little Bridge House and Charlton Farm offer a real home-from-home environment, including a main living area that forms the heart and soul of each house, cosy lounges and a messy play room for carefree creativity.

It also offers a multi-sensory room with lights, sounds and textures to soothe and calm, a soft play area for safe, trouble-free fun and a jacuzzi for relieving stiff joints and muscle spasms.

The charity is in the process of raising funds through the Precious Lives Appeal to build a third children's hospice, in Cornwall, called Little Harbour — due to open in 2011.

Beat manager brands Stop a Thief scheme a success

A SCHEME set up just over a year ago to help reduce the number of burglaries to rural farms across Axminster, Honiton and Seaton has been described as a success by one of its instigators.

PC Clive Vickery, neighbourhood beat manager for Honiton rural, launched the 'Stop a Thief' scheme in April 2009.

It is a joint initiative with the National Farmers' Union, Devon and Cornwall Police and the East and Mid Devon Community Safety Partnership.

As part of the scheme farmers can loan security equipment and farm alarms.

PC Vickery said: "Since we launched the scheme a year ago it has been very successful and well accepted by the local farming community.

"The alarms have been loaned and placed out to over 85 properties. This has helped to reduce burglaries, to educate local farmers on the benefits of securing their outbuildings and encourage them to update their own security equipment.

"Within rural Honiton over the last 12 months non-dwelling burglaries to farm premises have decreased by 38 per cent.

Within rural east Devon we are keen to continue this success and hope to make our rural areas safer and deter criminals who think they can continue to steal high value farm equipment from these communities.

"I am still keen to hear from anybody interested in being loaned an alarm by contacting me direct at Honiton Police Station on 08452 777 555."

Bunting bid success

AN appeal for help to replenish Axminster's stock of bunting has been described as "very successful".

It was in early March that tourist information centre (TIC) manager Sarah Crook - aided and abetted by town crier Nick Goodwin and other interested individuals - issued the appeal.

A quantity of the TIC's bunting went missing during the Tour of Britain and carnival double header last year.

But Sarah got hold of some material and invited members of the public to pick up triangular pieces, sew them together and return them to the TIC.

The response was huge and Sarah said:

"Lots of lovely people have helped."

She didn't have the name of everyone but said Dorothy Stevenson deserved to be mentioned as she has completed at least 100 pieces of bunting.

Sarah also praised All Saints Quilters for offering to put the pieces onto strings.

The strings are currently made in lengths of five and 10 metres, and will be available for use by local organisations and event organisers in exchange for a donation to the TIC.

The church May fayre on May 1st will be the inaugural event for the new bunting.

Paddle pair beat time in canoe race

By ANDERS LARSSON

anders@findlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster-based GP and his paddling partner improved their time by almost an hour, and more than £2,200 was raised for a worthy cause during the Easter weekend.

As previously reported, Dr Barry McKenna and Gary Wakley were set to take on the Devizes to Westminster International Canoe Marathon.

Last year's effort saw them negotiate the demanding course in 23 hours and six minutes — but they shaved off 58 minutes this year and finished in 22 hours and eight minutes.

The race has been held annually over the Easter weekend since 1948 and is described as "one of the ultimate tests of endurance" by its organisers.

When starting, competitors have 125 miles ahead of them, with 77 portages (where vessels are carried around an obstacle in the water or overland between waterways).

Dr McKenna paddled to raise money for ARC, a local and community-driven counselling and mental health charity he chairs.

Donations had reached £2,290 on April 18th, and Catherine Davies of ARC said: "He received many messages of support from well wishers that I am told really helped him in the small hours of Easter Sunday."

"It goes without saying that both Dr McKenna and our whole team here at ARC are incredibly touched by the support this fundraising event has received and that our charity will put every penny to good use, providing support to local people seeking help at a difficult time, as death, dying or other profoundly affecting change and loss touches their lives."

"Final donations can still be left at Axminster Medical Practice until the end of April."

Dr McKenna commented: "The race was very challenging this year due to the high river levels. We were tired but delighted to pass under Westminster Bridge."

"The amount of money raised reflects the generosity of local people as well as further steps in the right direction to raise the profile of mental health and counselling services."

Dreamcoat flies in

A LOCAL theatre group is putting on its own performance of a top West End show this week.

Shute Theatre and Arts Guild (Stag) and Young Stags are treading the boards at the church of St Giles, Kilmington, with an amateur production of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat.

The show will run for three nights this week on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 29th-May 1st but an audience is also invited to the final dress rehearsal on Wednesday, April 28th at 7.30pm. Tickets are available from Archway Bookshop, Axminster, on 01297 33595.

Pleased to be stuck at work

SHH. I'm talking very quietly as I don't want to scare it off. But have you seen this sunshine?

It's hard to think that just a few weeks ago, all we could see out of our windows was rain, rain and more rain. It was wet, cold, muddy — and now look, glorious sunshine. Still a little on the chilly side, accepted, but I'm not complaining.

Mind you, I write this at the weekend so, by the time this is published on Tuesday morning, knowing our British climate, it is likely to have disappeared again by then!

When we were going through those terrible weeks (felt more like months) of wet weather recently, I was sent this picture by a reader. Karen Warburton sent me this fab pic of The Minster Church of St Mary the Virgin, Axminster, which was taken last spring. She sent it to remind me that spring was, honestly, just around the corner... and she was dead right.

Unfortunately, I didn't have space to publish it at that time but it definitely cheered me up and spurred me on, so thank you to you both.

Amid these gorgeous rays of sunlight, it is almost impossible to believe that the skies above have been smothered with ash clouds from the Icelandic volcano eruption which has caused so much disturbance to our air industry. With the flight ban now lifted, travellers continue to make their slow return home by whatever means possible.

You would be forgiven for thinking there could be worse places to be stuck than on a Caribbean island after a holiday, but it's the upheaval, stress and uncertainty of it all — not to mention the extra money it is costing many. I, for one, can think of few things worse than being stranded abroad, worried about how you are going to get home and when — and how much extra it is going to cost you.

Being quite a 'homebug', as my mum calls it, I like a holiday, of course, but not for too long and you're usually ready to come home when you've planned to. You don't expect, for an instant, that you could be stuck in a foreign country instead of getting back on that plane to British soil.

Added to that is the worry over what passengers are missing back home. Most should be at work or school and could be losing money and missing important events. Then there's those out on business trips plus the enormity of money lost in the air industry because of this catastrophe.

I really feel for all those passengers who have gone and are going through the trauma of struggling to get back home. And I can safely say I am, for once, glad I've been at work and not on holiday.

Goodie bags and vouchers for children

TO celebrate the first season in its expanded premises, the Lily Brown shop invited all Beer Primary School children to enter an Easter competition.

The children responded to the challenge and made Easter cards which formed a colourful display in the shop window.

One child from each class won an Easter goodie bag and a £15 voucher to spend at the shop.

The winners were Lilly Chapple, Joshua Rodgers, Simon Davies and Phoebe Diepenbroek.

Wells happy with trading

A FORMER chamber of commerce leader was pleasantly surprised at the number of Axminster shops trading on Good Friday.

Fred Wells, who used to chair Axminster Chamber of Commerce, was out and about on Good Friday when he made his observations.

He stressed it was not a comprehensive count but he found at least 10 businesses trading.

He said: "My personal feeling is that we have to put the message out that Axminster is open on these days [bank holidays and weekends]."

He reported his observations during Axminster Chamber of Commerce's April meeting.

Bakers scoop big deal with supermarket

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

A HONITON bakery has just scooped a contract with Waitrose supermarkets in Sidmouth, Okehampton, Holsworthy, Crewkerne and Dorchester.

Devonvale Ltd will now provide a range of sliced snacks including hand baked cherry bakewell flapjacks, fruit cake and raspberry, blackcurrant and apple crumble slices, to the five stores.

Angela Cole, business development manager for Devonvale Ltd, said: "We supported the launch into the Waitrose stores with taster days, giving potential customers the chance to see, feel and taste the range."

"Feedback was outstanding with 97 per cent of customers saying how brilliant and tasty the slices were with most going back for seconds and more. Even more exciting for us was the fact that 89 per cent of those who tasted the slices went on to buy them."

Keith Upham, managing director and master baker at Devonvale, said: "Waitrose has been a pleasure to work with. At every level within the business Waitrose has a real understanding about the importance of local produce for local people.

"Although it's early days, we've already seen a significant increase in sales since launching with Waitrose and we are eagerly looking forward to working with them to launch our snacks into more shops in the future."

"Currently we employ 12 people and anticipate with future growth to be able to increase the number of people at the bakery."

"We would also like to thank everyone for their continued support of our products, with special thanks to Waitrose for recognising a quality local product."

Talks between Devonvale Ltd and Waitrose first took place in 2008 when the Sidmouth Waitrose branch manager, Mark Shepherd, went to visit the bakery.

Mr Shepherd added: "I recognised right from the offset the potential with this artisan product, as the ethos and passion of Angela and Keith was translated into these unique cakes and slices."

"It's great to be able to stock these great products, and it seems that I'm not the only fan - they've been extremely popular with our customers and are simply flying off the shelves."

♦ CUSTOMER Ian Pitman using the ramp, and driver Richard Payne

AN Axminster taxi company has brought a taste of London to Devon.

Payne's Premier Travel recently increased its fleet by taking delivery of a black London-style cab.

It comes with a wheelchair ramp, and disabled passengers can be driven to their destination sitting in their wheelchair.

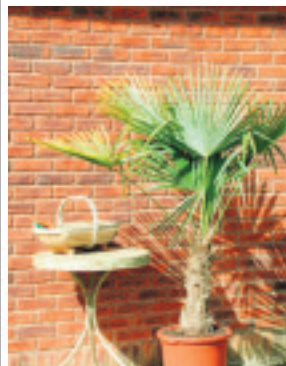

Company owner Richard Payne said: "During our first year of trading we identified a clear need for a vehicle that can accommodate wheelchairs."

"To use the black cab seemed the ideal solution, combining easy access with being instantly recognisable."

"Whilst we have always endeavoured to accommodate travellers who are less able, we feel that the ramp access for wheelchairs really does now allow us to offer an enhanced level of service."

A delightful experience

EDITOR — Well done on your poem in the Pulman's View edition of April 13th by Vanda Godfrey.

However, from a completely different angle there are many things we are blessed with in Seaton especially the choice and variety of our local shops.

Recently my husband was in hospital, now cured thankfully, and he usually does the day to day heavier shopping as I am disabled.

But I took over and was highly delighted. Everywhere I went, including the pet shop, my usual friendly chat with Tony and Ellie, the Paper Chain card shop, Jason Collins the greengrocers, the Post Office, CostCutter, Byrne-Jones — and I could go on, I was served in a friendly and very efficient way.

I called on the butchers G W Meats and said my husband who usually comes here, you know, the one with the bald head. They knew who I meant immediately and the lady assistant was able to quote the type and weight of joint he often buys, and sent her best wishes to him after she heard of his illness.

And as ever I enjoyed the poetry written on the blackboard outside their shop written by accomplished poet and butcher Mr Salter.

His poems, often humorous, are fabulous a veritable Seaton attraction.

I ask you, who could not patronise the wonderful Seaton shops?

Fight to save 'mothers' right' is taken to chiefs

EDITOR — I am writing to express my views with regards to the cuts that are being made at the Honiton Maternity Unit.

This is a letter I have sent to Tracey Reeves, head of midwifery at Exeter.

I feel these are not only my views but also the majority of expectant, new mums and families within east Devon.

I do not understand how you can make such a huge decision to cut the services at this hospital when by far it is working very well and has done for the last 15 years since its refurbishment.

I am fortunate enough — and may have been the last — to have received the wonderful service Honiton provides within the last eight weeks.

This was with my second child and I had a straightforward labour.

The midwives and nurses were fantastic — as always — and even though this was my second I still needed some guidance with feeding and bathing (its all easily forgotten).

I stayed two nights which was enough for me to get my head around going home, coping with the pains, tiredness and generally getting used to having my new little baby.

How can you make these proposed changes?

I understand women will be sent home in as little as three hours after giving birth.

I also believe the unit will only be open from 8am to 8pm and after these hours midwives will be on call at their home?

These cuts will cause problems and a lot more expenses in the future than if you were to leave well alone.

You don't break things that are not broken in the first place.

We don't get a lot from our taxes so don't cut one of the only assets we help pay towards.

I understand, I may be wrong, that the staff were first made aware of this by way of a memo or letter?

How can you not have consulted staff before such a decision is made?

On an emotional level I feel very strongly that many women being sent straight home — even after a longer period of maybe 12 hours — from Exeter and Honiton may suffer post-natal depression and very low moods.

After my first child — who I also had in Honiton — I stayed in for four days after having her.

Yet still I got home and found it all too much.

I was very lucky at this time to have supportive midwives and health visitors to support me.

If I had been sent home earlier I may not have coped so well.

The midwives, doctors and health visitors are all going to be pulled from every angle and feel pressured to be there for all the new mums but how can they be?

For example how can a midwife be at someone's home at 2am if they are having trouble breastfeeding or settling their new baby — who may only be a few hours old?

They won't be able to, and if they do get called, the midwives' family will be disturbed.

I could say 90 per cent of women wouldn't call the midwife as they would feel guilty disturbing her and by morning would then be emotionally exhausted.

If they had the aftercare at Honiton this could be avoided and new mums shown and given guidance to this sort of example before leaving.

I could go on and on, on this subject. It would be good if you could give some answers.

I'm sure you have heard of Facebook?

Have a look at the group being put together to protest at these cut backs, and also the emotional stories of each mum who is supporting the group.

I believe there are more than 2,000 supporters and it is still growing daily.

Maybe you would like to meet us and answer some of our questions and concerns?

Please listen to us and save Honiton Maternity Unit after-care service.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Drivers face pothole hell

EDITOR — On Wednesday, April 7th whilst driving towards Dunkeswell I hit a pothole.

Nothing unusual there except this one was more like a ditch.

Within seconds of my mishap another car came to grief and later on that same day a third car was damaged and other cars had also been damaged earlier in the week.

I know it's impossible for the district council to repair every pothole the moment they appear but this was a very deep one and very dangerous particularly for bikers.

When I looked for my hubcap I found 15 of them in the ditch so that was an indicator of the state of the road.

It would be interesting to know of other drivers who had come to grief at this spot which was along Limers Lane just by the turning to Wolford Chapel?

I must thank a very kind young man from Dunkeswell who came to my assistance. Who said the age of chivalry was dead?

Empty shops in ghost town

EDITOR — Regarding the Business Suite in Seaton; why can't the empty Co-op premises be used on Fore Street instead of building on Harepath Road which is out of the centre of our town?

We have too many empty shops. Visitors say we're a town of charity shops and it resembles a ghost town with properties boarded up.

Coward runs over a kitten

EDITOR — We have just received a phone call, at 8.30pm on Wednesday, April 14th, advising us that our kitten had been knocked over and had unfortunately passed away.

Firstly I would like to say a big thank you to the kind neighbours who made this call from Rosemount Close.

And secondly I would like to say a big thank you to the coward who hit our kitten and failed to stop. This incident took place down Rosemount Hill, Honiton.

I cannot understand how you can screech your brakes and then drive off — you obviously know you hit our beautiful black and white kitten — words cannot describe how angry we are with you.

We are not unrealistic and know accidents happen and had talked about the busy road behind us before getting Jessie but it would have been made a little easier had you stopped, looked at her collar and called us.

I do hope you feel hugely guilty — if not for me and my husband but for our daughter, nearly 3 years old, and think about how we have had to tell her the news that she will not be able to grow up with her kitten and play anymore.

What change are politicians referring to before election?

EDITOR — Is someone trying to tell us something?

During an election when politicians are urging that it is time for 'a change' what sort of change?

As far as can be ascertained 'a change' means a fairer society.

Yet these same politicians are stuck in the 1890s while supporting the 21st century lifestyle.

Education, education, education nothing new in that except the Victorians did something about it. Free schooling for all was their aim and very successful they were.

Previously illiterate children emerged able to read and add up.

This could not be achieved without cost. Cost to the general public who paid for and benefited from the stream of newly competent young people.

On the whole the taxpayers accepted the need for free education.

At this moment thousands of school children are marooned in far off countries due to the air traffic crisis.

We see on our screens dozens of well-heeled families coping with the privations and disruption encountered by those who can afford to spend large sums of money on a family holiday for 10 days in the sun.

There are many more families left at home who cannot pay for such luxury.

Yet — every year they receive an envelope marked Council Tax which, in many cases, they have to struggle to pay.

A considerable proportion of this tax is spent on education.

We have moved on since the Victorians instituted free education for the children from families barely earning a living wage who needed financial support from the better off to improve their lot.

We Elizabethans now impose oppressive taxes on the poor so that the better off can afford a lifestyle regardless of the cost of their children's education based on a 150 year old concept.

Of course the politicians' nightmare, political suicide, would result from any party radical enough to propose the introduction of school fees which is why we are where we are.

But could not the aim of a fairer society be accommodated without too much pain?

How would a system of assessing the annual value in educational cost terms each child received according to the school he attended?

This benefit could be added to the parent's income and expressed as income tax.

We already know parents are willing to move to expensive areas in the hope that their children may receive a better education.

The further advantage of this scheme is that all parents would get involved in monitoring their child's progress.

Surely such a course should not be impossible for introduction by an administration who already charges the sick for their medicine?

Guides hold an exhibition

EDITOR — AXE Valley Girl Guides held an exhibition of Girl Guide, Brownie and Sea Ranger's Memorabilia recently.

Uniforms over the years were on display together with hundreds of beautifully presented photographs.

There was also a wonderful display of badges and newspaper cuttings covering many guiding events over the years.

Now another, younger, generation of leaders who are equally committed to give young girls such a wonderful grounding and are themselves fantastic role models.

Personally, I think every prospective Member of Parliament should have belonged to the Scouts or Guide Association. Our country would be in much safer hands as each child is brought up to look out for each other and not just for self, plus honesty and common sense.

Greatest assets to a town are its citizens

EDITOR — Recently I was at a very well attended meeting in Seaton Town Hall, organised by the Seaton's Voice group, which was very ably chaired by Carol Manley.

The object being to acquaint us with its progress with regard to the ongoing negotiations within our district council about the use and eventual return of the town hall to its rightful owners.

It was immediately obvious that a great deal of work had already been done and with people and organisations unstintingly offering their help and skills, much had already been achieved in their drive towards this goal.

Many of us will remember a meeting in the town hall some time ago when our mayor asked the people of the town to take on the burden of trying to make it a viable proposition and much to their credit a number of people came forward to try to cope with this onerous task.

Now another chance has arrived and with the group's leadership, determination and business plan, the district councils offered help.

With the backing of the town council and the community at large, we may at last once more own our town hall with all the advantages and possibilities that would accrue from such an endeavour.

So, let's do what our newly formed chamber of commerce is trying to do and what our football team is doing at the moment, sitting on top of their league and already almost out of sight of their rivals, and go for it.

As Mr Chris Byrne-Jones stated in his letter to the press a short while ago, Seaton's greatest asset is indeed its citizens.

Thank you for charity support

EDITOR — We would like to thank everyone who supported our coffee morning on the 8th April in the church rooms, Axminster.

We managed to raise £226 for the Alzheimer's Society.

This money will help people living with dementia and their carers.

In the past people didn't want to talk about dementia, like cancer used to be years ago.

However we are told that dementia is on the increase, the people that are living with this illness and their carers need as much support and understanding as possible.

Dementia is not a single illness but a group of symptoms caused by damage to the brain.

The symptoms include loss of memory, mood changes and confusion. Dementia can be caused by a number of different medical conditions, including Alzheimer's disease.

The Alzheimer's Society are leading the fight against dementia, the money raised on Thursday is very much appreciated so thank you.

Lucky to have police assistance

EDITOR — Devon and Cornwall Police have been kind enough to provide traffic management for events for so many years — Pulman's View edition March 30th.

Here in Fleet, Hampshire, the police withdrew from such assistance more than 10 years ago.

The annual carnival and Fleet half-marathon organisers are required to negotiate road closure orders with the police and district council.

Then they must publicise such closures — even if only for 30 minutes — a month in advance with road signs along the affected routes and surrounding roads likely to be affected.

Then on the day of the event the organisers have to man the traffic diversion routes and marshal the processions.

Still at least it stops it becoming a police state, leaving power to the people.

District council hits back at calls for smaller store

EAST Devon District Council (EDDC) has hit back at campaigners who are calling for the Sainsbury's store in Ottery St Mary to be reduced in size.

Sainsbury's was granted permission to build a 20,000 sqft supermarket in the Hind Street area of Ottery.

Members of campaign group Sustainable Ottery have said the size of the store should be reduced to 10,000 sqft.

However, Paul Diviani, chairman of the EDDC development management committee, has said the full size store will help bring trade to the town and will keep people in Ottery.

He said: "Planning will always be contentious as, by its very nature, there always have to be winners and losers. Our remit is to determine applications in line with national, regional, district-wide and local policies and aspirations."

"In the case of a town, for example, we also have regard for the town's position as a local centre for its immediate hinterland and beyond."

"In this particular case, our retail consultants had recommended a similar size store to the Town Mill site (50 per cent less than the Hind Street application). Our experience tells us that once a store is in place and proves popular (as I am sure the first one of this brand in the district will be) it will overtrade and be subject to a second application to increase the size.

"In the process you can easily lose design benefits that are apparent in this application."

As previously reported in this newspaper, hundreds of people attended a special EDDC development management committee meeting at The Institute on Thursday, April 15th. Many of those who attended spoke out against the supermarket plans.

However, there were several speakers who welcomed the Sainsbury's plan to build in Ottery.

Mr Diviani said: "The majority of members were persuaded that a smaller store would not stop the well documented leakage of the shoppers of Ottery St Mary and its hinterland to other centres in the district, county and beyond, whereas the approved store would be of a sufficient size to reverse that dispiriting trend."

"Among the speakers there were those who positively welcomed this application, especially amongst the town's shopkeepers."

Mr Diviani added: "Whilst you expect a big player to inflict some damage on local shops, one that attracts increased new trade will benefit the local offering, especially when linked as well as Hind Street is to the shopping centre."

HALFF shop is fully open

UNDER the slogan of No HALFF Measures, Health and Local Food for Families officially opened up shop in Axminster.

The opening took place in the South Street shop on Wednesday, April 21st.

River Cottage Canteen head chef Tim Maddams had been invited to say a few words and declare the shop open.

HALFF is all about growing food, cooking food and eating food.

Mr Maddams said about HALFF and its operation: "To have made it this far is a massive achievement. What mustn't happen now is for that to end."

HALFF's main aims are:

•To improve the health of families in East Devon, South Somerset and West Dorset particularly, but not exclusively, by the provision of appropriate education on healthy eating.

•To improve knowledge of good quality local food producers and suppliers.

•To improve access to good quality food — local where possible.

The aims are achieved through a variety of initiatives, including free, monthly cookery demonstrations in Axminster and Chard for parents of babies and toddlers. More information about HALFF is available from the shop in South Street or online at www.halff.org.uk.

Primary scores top marks from Ofsted

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@indlenews.co.uk

A VILLAGE school near Honiton has a double reason to celebrate this week.

Payhembury Church of England Primary School was recently visited by Ofsted inspectors and Anglican inspectors and scored top marks in both inspection reports.

Lead inspector for Ofsted Mike Burghart said: "The outstanding vision and ambition of the headteacher are infectious and have brought staff and governors on board in moves which have driven up pupils' attainment."

"There is a strong ethos of teamwork which results in theory and intentions being turned into practice to the benefit of pupils' learning. The track record which has been established, particularly in the very effective monitoring of teaching, development assessment procedures and the use made of data to set challenging targets underpins a good capacity for future improvement."

In the report from Anglican inspectors, the partnership between the headteacher and chair of governors was described as inspirational.

The report said: "Both are determined to achieve the absolute best for all members of their community. The energy and attractiveness of their vision is contagious and has been enthusiastically and yet thoughtfully embraced by school staff."

"Christian values thread through the comments made by the head about her school. For example, the humility impact in her firm statement that the success achieved by the school is due to the dedication and love for the children of her entire team."

Penny Carvill, headteacher at Payhembury, said: "I am immensely proud to be the headteacher of this wonderful school with fabulous children and staff. It has been an exciting period of change and development over the last few years."

"I was thrilled that we have been able to demonstrate our open, friendly welcoming school community, which is clearly at the heart of our village."

Rev Cate Edmonds, chair of governors at the school, added: "I am delighted with the result of these inspections, the school deserves such recognition. The headteacher, staff and children have worked incredibly hard to establish a wonderful school with excellent results, well embedded core values developed from their Christian tradition and a marvellous family ethos and creative environment."

"In a nutshell I am so proud to be both parish priest and chair of governors for Payhembury Church of England Primary School."

TONY JACKSON

Hérons can be a menace to pond fish

THIS morning, as I was eating my cornflakes for breakfast, a knock at the door revealed a harassed-looking neighbour bearing a tale of woe.

He has, it seems, a garden pond full of koi carp. Correction ... now minus one carp, the result of a dawn raid by a heron. The bird was seen, at around 5am, standing up to its belly in water, as it waited for its breakfast to appear and, later, fish scales were discovered on the bank.

Now koi carp can be extremely valuable and my friend wondered on the best course of action. Obviously a protected bird, no hostile move can be made against the heron itself and deterrence is the only answer.

Hérons can be an absolute menace where domestic fish are concerned as I know only too well. Last year, a score of goldfish were killed in my garden pond, leaving one petrified survivor, and I have decided not to release any more fish to feed the local heronry. I tried using, as a deterrent, a plastic model of a heron but this, as far as I could see, merely attracted the raider and I suppose I should have put a net across the water, but felt that this would look unattractive.

However, the only advice I could offer my distraught friend was to try a similar move. Herons, handsome as they are, as dawn raiders can be an absolute menace where garden ponds are concerned.

Meanwhile, staying with the bird front, I hear that there have been a number of sightings of red kites, with single birds seen flying over Beer Head on April 11th and over Blackhole Marsh the following day.

It will, I fancy, not be long before we have nesting kites in the Westcountry, an overspill from the scores of birds in the Chilterns. Currently, we have only a pair of swallows, where normally I would have expected to have acted as host to two or three pairs, but perhaps numbers will soon be supplemented. However, there seem to be numerous chiffchaffs as evidenced by their repetitive calls.

I have yet to hear one, but a friend rang on April 18th to say that she had heard a cuckoo calling. For once, in the light of the late spring, the bird has arrived just as the Lady Smock or Cuckoo plant has disclosed its pale pink and purple flowers to fulfil its common name.

But have any other readers heard the cuckoo yet? I heard only one last year and none in the previous two years. Nor have I seen much in the way of butterflies, other than the odd brimstone and tortoiseshell for, despite the glorious sunny days, a bitter, chill wind from the north has offered little encouragement to these insects.

Now, if you'd like to learn more about aspects of wildlife and how to record it, a series of free workshops is being organised by Dorset Wildlife Trust (DWT) this summer for volunteers who would like to assist in monitoring Dorset's bees, wasps, wild orchids, grasses and heathland species.

The only caveat is that volunteers who attend the free workshops put their knowledge to good use by sending species records to enable DWT and the Dorset Environmental Records Centre to gather vital information on the status of local wildlife.

A workshop on grasses will be held at Kingcombe Meadows on May 27th; on orchids at Fontmell Down on June 19th; on heathland species at Higher Hyde Heath, near Wool, on July 2nd and on bees and wasps on July 18th at the Urban Wildlife Centre, Corfe Mullen and further workshops will be added during the summer. To book contact DWT on 01305 264620.

Pulman's

With Nigel Speller

the churches

REV Linda Chester, Methodist Minister starts this week with, sadly, a very topical, true story.

She said: "All the best laid plans of mice and men..." is often quoted but not often experienced to such an extent the world has witnessed over these past days.

"Who would have thought that a volcano erupting in far away Iceland would have a major effect on the world's flight plans? It's not just over Great Britain and Ireland and northern Europe but people are stranded as far away as Beijing and Tokyo. Plans for weddings, family occasions, holidays and business travel have been thrown into chaos.

"I was due to lead 28 people on a pilgrimage to the Holy Land last weekend. All the planning and preparation was in place — my suitcase packed and ready to go. Things beyond our human control remind us of our vulnerability within the cycle of nature.

"We may be 'fearfully and wonderfully made' (Psalm 139) but we cannot always do what we choose. A steep learning curve and the great blessing of being safe."

I have returned from a post-Easter family break in Berlin, luckily just before everything closed down!

Next, to some helpful news — before Parliament was dissolved, Francis Maude received a parliamentary written answer from David Lammy, Minister of State at the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills, on the use of recorded music in divine service (including occasional offices) by the Church of England. Lammy replied that the proposed changes to the current charitable statutory exemptions for the public performance of recorded and broadcast music will apply to music used in divine worship. However, Phonographic Performance Limited (PPL) has agreed on a voluntary exemption for the use of broadcast and recorded music as part of divine worship anywhere. This will also apply to all religious ceremonies and domestic or family occasions such as wedding parties. Legislation awaits the new Parliament.

Still on parliamentary matters of a sort, the body sometimes described as the church's parliament, the General Synod of the Church of England. The General Synod too has an election in September this year for its 378 lay and clerical members. The church has produced a DVD extolling the virtues of Synod membership, and tries to respond to the comment "Synod has no relevance to me".

In response, the DVD asks, Are you interested in how the Church of England spends its money? Are you interested in how the clergy are treated? Are you interested in the mission and ministry of the church?

The response is that the General Synod is where these things happen. Nomination papers are available from July 20th to be returned by September 3rd; elections follow in September and October and the new Synod meets in London on November 22nd-24th. Enquiries to 01392 294920, and there will be hustings meetings in Devon before the election. There is also the following website for reference www.generalsynodelections2010.org.

The Archbishop of Canterbury says: "A healthy and mature church is one where everyone feels they have a voice. Synod needs our voices."

And east Devon has just had its own hustings in preparation for the Parliamentary election in May. It was good that churches in Axminster and Seaton were the venue for these meetings which were attended by all candidates for the local constituency.

Everything seems to be happening in May. The newly-elected officers of all churches in Exeter Diocese are called to a visitation by their local Archdeacon to be welcomed to their offices and in east Devon this means on Thursday, May 6th at Exeter Cathedral or on Tuesday, May 18th at St George's Church, Tiverton — both at 7.30pm — all are welcome to these services.

Every last Sunday in the month from 3-4pm at Throgmorton Hall, Highfield, Dunksell, ordinary folk will speak about their personal experiences of God on the theme God Cares. Enquiries to 01823 681169. The next date is May 30th and monthly to November.

A last word from Ray Hunter, of Axminster Christian Fellowship: "As a young boy growing up with an interest in all things musical I enjoyed listening to a certain African-American spiritual song, the first line of which went, 'Them bones, them bones, them dry bones, now hear the word of the Lord.'"

"Later on in life I found out these words were from a prophecy in the book of Ezekiel in the Old Testament. The dry bones were the people of Israel who were in exile and God was speaking to them about bringing them back to their own land, and used words like, I will put flesh, sinew and skin onto these dry bones and put my Spirit within you, and breathe life into you.

"Do these words resonate with us today as we consider our own nation?"

New Round Table chairman steps in HONITON Round Table's new chairman is Richard Steggall, who took over from Kevin Hunt during the group's annual meeting in March.

The meeting was held on March 31st at The Awliscombe Inn, with Gez Lovell voted in as vice-chairman and Martin Davies as president.

The round table movement is described by the Honiton section as "an organisation for men that meet on regular occasions in order to further friendships, add something to their local community through participation or support and enjoy a range of life-broadening experiences".

Full membership is limited to those between the ages of 18 and 45.

Local businessmen started the Honiton table in 1948, and it is one of 13 tables in Devon which together form Area 19.

Parties hold a discussion over a cafe

A MEETING was held on April 7th at Axminster Hospital to decide if there was a need for a memory cafe in Axminster.

Representatives from the NHS, nursing staff working at the Conybeare Day Centre, Axminster Seniors' Forum, Rotary, Alzheimer's, Peter Smart and David Light, who had joined the Axminster Seniors' Forum at its last meeting and spoke about setting up the memory cafe, were present.

There were apologies from Age Concern, Axminster Care Services and Axminster Lions.

After Mr Light opened the meeting a discussion was held by all parties and it was felt a memory cafe would be ideal for Axminster.

It was to be informal, friendly and informative.

There would be a Community Psychiatric Nurse for one hour to offer advice to anyone who was concerned they might have the signs of dementia as well as advice for carers.

There would be literature on subjects such as where to obtain help from the NHS or any funding that might be available.

Tea and coffee would be available and there would be time to chat to others in the same situation.

It was envisaged that the cafe might take place once a month to begin with.

A co-ordinator was the first priority and Peter Smart stepped forward to take up the post.

Having worked as a nurse, a Redcoat and was now going around to nursing homes entertaining the residents, it was felt he had much to offer.

He would organise the setting up of the memory cafe and volunteers.

Axminster Senior's Forum was to take on the overall supporting role of the cafe itself.

It will take at least two months to get everything sorted out and up and running but everyone felt it would be worthwhile.

Anyone who would like to be involved and help in some way should contact Peter Smart on either 01297 35144 or 07717534871.

Women enjoy an historical evening despite electricals

SOON after the start of the Phoenix Ladies' April meeting at the United Reform Church Hall the members were plunged into relative dimness due to an electrical fault which was not easily rectified.

This was unfortunate for speaker John Allen as he had hoped to give a slide show and talk on the village of Tintinhull where his family had worked as farriers, wheelwrights and blacksmiths for several generations.

Mr Allen kindly agreed to carry on using his display of early photographs, albums and recipe books to augment his informative talk.

Tintinhull was a traditional Saxon village with a green, clumping post and originally a pond all surrounded by a profusion of ancient cider orchards most of which have now sadly disappeared.

The group was told that Mr Allen's great grandfather, one of 13 children, had started work as an apprentice blacksmith.

With his uncle he accumulated a wealth of tools, billboards, newspaper cuttings and memorabilia all of which, after documentation, filled three silage trailers.

Instead of breaking up this remarkable collection Mr Brian Knight of Chard Museum was contacted and a unique record of the heritage was subsequently put on display 27 years ago for all to appreciate.

The museum will re-open on May 1st. To date there have been a staggering 50,000 visitors.

The ladies were also given some dates for future events.

There will be a meal out at Sidmouth on Friday, May 24th lifts for non-drivers required and then a trip to Poole via a craft centre on Monday, June 7th.

Members were also told that a new memory cafe will start shortly, one day a month, at the URC hall to support folk with memory loss.

The next meeting will be on May 12th at 7.30pm when Miranda Allhusen will give a talk on the National Garden Scheme.

Celebration of 55 years

COLYTON and Colyford group of Cancer Research UK are having an antiques valuation, by Bonhams of Honiton, and cream tea afternoon to celebrate 55 years of fundraising in the area.

The event will take place on Wednesday, April 28th in the town hall in Colyton at 2.30pm to 5pm.

Entrance will be £5 which will include one valuation.

Tickets are available from Wilkies, Market Square, Colyton or by calling Joan on 01297 552670, Pam on 01297 552392 or Maureen on 01297 552851.

The group's annual meeting will be held on Wednesday, May 5th at 7.30pm in the town hall, Colyton. All are welcome.

Institute gathering very well attended

THE April Meeting of the Honiton Afternoon Women's Institute was attended by 19 members and three visitors.

The Spring Group Meeting was held at Feniton and deemed a great success by the members who attended.

The speaker was Marion Scott who talked of her life in Sierra Leone which everyone found illuminating.

The talk was followed by a raffle and refreshment. Member Christine Broom came third in the competition for decorated cup cakes.

The speaker this month was Mr Cotton who spoke of his work with the RSPB. He explained where to place nesting boxes and bird feeders.

The RSPB also run its own boat trips on the River Exe for bird watching and even on the Seaton Tramways at certain times.

A vote of thanks was given by Jenny Townsend.

Thanks went to Neelia Day for running the bring and buy stall and to all those who contributed to it.

The spring council meeting at Torquay should prove to be interesting as the main speaker will be the famous singer Leslie Garrett.

The group is arranging a summer outing and members will be told next month as to where the most votes were cast.

The competition for a feathered button hole was won by Jill Godfrey and runner up was Joyce Allsup.

The flower competition was won by Joyce Allsup with Jenny Richards second and Neelia Day third.

The next meeting will be on May 10th when the speaker will be Mr Lambert on ShelterBox.

ShelterBox talk informs at bi-monthly meeting

Colyton and Colyford Probud Club held its bi-monthly meeting at The Wheelwright when members heard a most interesting talk by David Guy of the ShelterBox Trust.

He told members about the foundation of the trust by Tom Henderson, a member of Helston-Lizard Rotary Club, and now supported by Rotary Clubs throughout the world.

The charity helps displaced persons in more than 40 countries.

Each box, which costs £490 delivered, provides a tent for 10 people, plus many items such as a cooking stove, tools, water purification and importantly a children's pack.

The club learnt that 90 per cent of income, all donated, goes on getting the boxes and its contents to disaster victims and only 10 per cent on administration which is a very high proportion of aid therefore going to those who need it.

And still today ShelterBox is administered by the Rotary Club of Helston-Lizard in Cornwall.

Members agreed it was a very informative talk and member Bill Waterworth gave a well deserved vote of thanks.

The next meeting of Colyton and Colyford Probud Club is on Tuesday, April 27th.

ME Awareness Week 2010

M.E. Awareness Week in 2010 falls between 9 - 15 May.

This week is the opportunity for individuals and groups together to raise awareness of M.E. and raise funds in aid of the cause. The Dorset ME Support Group, a registered charity, is a membership organisation offering help and support to those with CFS/ME, including their families and carers, who reside in the county of Dorset or in areas immediately adjoining it. The Group currently supports over 600 persons and their families.

The Group's activities are centred on providing information about the illness, a Benefits Advisory Service, advice on Welfare Support and a range of social and other activities to encourage the rehabilitation of its members. A twice-yearly Newsletter is distributed to members and an Annual Medical Lecture is organised with speakers of national standing.

The Group operates a series of local "Link Groups", set up across the county, and immediately adjoining areas, to provide a focal point for CFS/ME sufferers and carers in their own localities.

If you require more information about the work of the Group and its activities, please contact our Group Administrator on 01305777670 or go to www.dmesg.org.uk

On Sunday May 9th there will be Open House and Gardens at Thistlegate House, Axminster Road, Charmouth, DT6 6BY, in aid of Dorset ME Support Group. There will be stalls, games and cream teas in the garden from 2.00 to 5.00pm. Admission £2.50 (50p for children and carers free).

Help and care when you need it

Michelle Hague

We often forget how, in our growing and developing world with the benefits of improvements in medicine our growing population of older adults is impacting on the community.

Care for our growing older generation is an important issue and we must consider how in turn we all stay healthy and strong. With so many things to think about, some people can easily start to neglect their own health care while looking after a loved one or working in the caring community itself.

It is too easy not to notice the stress as it creeps up on you, time seems a commodity that you just can't spare, and the days seem to all blend together into one long endless trying demand from one thing and another.

Now is the time to do something about it, before you too need care.

If you are worried about coping, anxious or even becoming phobic, or just plain concerned about all the things that might or could go wrong, or needing to do something about a habit which has started to become a problem. Then it is time to make some changes, wouldn't it be nice to just focus on what you want, to be able relax and enjoy yourself and the wonderful people and world around you again?

Michelle is an experienced and established hypnotherapist and cognitive behavioural hypnotherapist working locally from her clinics in Axminster, Sidmouth and Exeter.

Hypnotherapy utilises the natural state of relaxed concentration and heightened awareness to affect desired changes in behaviour, physical, emotional and/or psychological. During this enjoyable state, suggestibility is improved and individuals become very receptive to positive suggestions.

Hypnosis is induced simply by you listening to the therapist's voice and focusing your attention on the words being spoken. Obviously there are many different techniques to induce trance, but there are no swinging pendulums or flashing, bright lights! It's not a Hollywood movie! It's serious therapeutic work combining psychology and counselling and most importantly, IT WORKS!!

Contact Michelle today and take control of your life 07761 773563.

The newly extended conservatory provides an extra sitting area overlooking the wonderful views of the garden and the village, for the service users and visitors

Come and see for yourself we are proud to show visitors around. If you wish to see the best in residential care for the confused elderly just telephone to arrange a visit. A Fresh Face at Symonds & Sampson

THE Lettings Office, within Symonds & Sampson of Axminster, has recently added to its strong team of agents.

Melanie Beaton joined the team, led by Saskia Williams MARLA, in March with many years of customer focussed experience under her belt. She has already undertaken her first ARLA (Association of Residential Letting Agents) course in London and is well on her way to becoming a fully qualified member of ARLA. This is of particular importance to Saskia, as she knows that an in depth knowledge of the ever changing lettings legislation, is of utmost importance to all of their Landlords and Tenants.

Melanie joins Saskia and Ann Hawkins, as a full time Lettings Negotiator. Saskia is very happy with the way Melanie has settled into the team and feels that their new and existing Landlords and Tenants will really benefit from the new appointment. "By bringing Melanie on board, our Landlords and Tenants will see that the level of Symonds & Sampson's commitment to their needs remains high, which is especially important in this buoyant market. We have been very busy since the beginning of the year and I expect it to continue long into the summer months. Therefore having an extra pair of hands on deck has never been more important!"

To take full advantage of the experience of an established and reputable Lettings Agency, call into the Symonds & Sampson offices on Trinity Square, ring the team on 01297 32879, or email Saskia on swilliams@symondssandsampson.co.uk

GRASS KEEP AUCTION SUCCESS

ANDREW Luxton of Stags Honiton Office reports on an extremely successful Collective Grass Keep auction held at The Turks Head Function Rooms at Honiton on Thursday, 15th April 2010.

With less grass seemingly offered for sale by Public Auction each year and a hard winter resulting in a shortage of spring grass ensured good competition.

Top price per acre was £188 per acre for a 4.77 acre field at Cleverhayes Farm, Cotleigh. The overall auction average of £117 an acre being almost 50% up on 2009.

Andrew Luxton further comments that historically he would have sold 1,000 acres plus by auction but each year due to people wishing to agree either on a private treaty basis or for a longer term, less grass keep is made available for public auction annually. Undoubtedly the results this year may tempt some to consider offering the grass keep for auction for 2011 as a way of confirming its true value. For further advice then do not hesitate to contact him at the Stags Honiton Office on 01404 42553.

Best of the bunch - Tulip

There is a tulip for every setting as they come in all shapes, colours and sizes - in single, double, goblet or star-shaped, frilly or long and slender.

If you combine a variety of forms you can have a succession of tulips, which flower from early to late spring, throughout the season.

Beautiful varieties include the pure white Tulipa Mount Tacoma, which bears peony-like flowers, and the tall, elegant White Triumphator, which both look wonderful in pots.

In the border, World's Favourite glows orange-red with a delicate gold edge and Red Impression has elegant ruby red flowers on strong stems with impressive foliage.

For dramatic effect, grow parrot tulips for cutting. Garish and over-the-top for some gardeners but loved by others, these tulips have crumpled curly petals bunched into big ruffled blooms.

Many parrot tulips are scented which makes them particularly well suited as cut flowers. Choose a striking variety such as Tulipa Flaming Parrot, Rococo or Orange Favourite.

Tulips should be planted in late autumn - preferably late October or November - with the base of the bulbs at four times their depth below the surface.

Plant them in gritty compost in full sun and if they are in pots make sure there is plenty of drainage and that the pots are resting on pot feet so the bulbs don't rot from damp soaking in from the ground.

New era for Cricket St. Thomas blooms

Historic Grade-II listed gardens and lakes at Cricket St Thomas Hotel near Chard re-open to the public on Bank Holiday Monday May 3rd as work continues on a major £300,000 restoration programme. And they're asking the public to have a say in the focus for the next phase of the work.

The aim of the massive project which has involved draining several man-made lakes to clear silt that had built-up over 45 years is to restore the gardens to their former glory and open up the glorious vistas of one of Somerset's most beautiful valleys.

The gardens and grounds cover some 160 acres and were originally created over a period of almost 50 years by the second Lord Bridport who spent what was then a huge fortune of £250,000 (estimated at around £500 million in today's money) on his ambitious plans.

Among features created were the chain of lakes and cascades, formed by damming a small river that runs through the grounds, as well as several ornamental gardens.

Today the main lawn of the elegant Regency country mansion, instantly recognisable as the setting for the TV sitcom 'To The Manor Born', still features the large cedar under which Lord Nelson and his mistress Lady Hamilton are believed to have spent many happy hours more than 200 years ago.

Among the work that is being undertaken by Warner Leisure Hotels has been the creation of a new Japanese garden and enhanced grotto designed by Chelsea Flower Show Gold Medal winner Kate Gould, and a rose garden maze in the shape of a rose bud.

And, although most of the larger animals from the former Cricket St Thomas Wildlife Park have been permanently re-homed elsewhere in appropriate zoos and wildlife parks, several of the most popular collections remain in improved new surroundings.

Cricket St Thomas's famous lemur woodland walk has been improved and visitors will still be able to enjoy seeing the meerkats and mongooses. Wallabies and deer roam free in new wild meadow settings, and visitors will be able to see the former wildlife park's tamarind monkeys living 'free-range' in the trees – believed to be a first for a UK outdoor attraction. The new lakes and gardens have also retained flamingos at one of the lakes.

Paths around the beautiful Swan Down Lake and Wading lake are being improved and, whilst landscaping is still in progress. The grounds include many unique garden features such as a collection of bronze statues by local sculptor John Robinson.

A new exhibition with many historic photographs and documents highlighting how Cricket St Thomas has changed over the centuries will be free of charge to visitors.

As well as looking back, hotel guests and visitors will also have the unique opportunity to have their say about how Cricket St Thomas will look in the future. All the proceeds from the £4.95pp & Dogs £1 entrance price – half the entrance fee of the former Wildlife Park – are being invested in the gardens and grounds and visitors can vote for where they'd like the money to be spent –

Sculpture, Gardens, Activities & Education.

Ian Gyte, General Manager of Cricket St Thomas hotel, said: "This is a very exciting opportunity to evolve the Park and create a new attraction for families, local residents and the thousands of visitors we welcome throughout the year. The new Lakes and Gardens will be a stunning testament to the long heritage of Cricket St Thomas whilst taking the gardens firmly into the 21st century. We're confident that visitors will enjoy the beautifully designed gardens and our glorious Somerset landscapes."

Gardener Kate Gould described the project as "an amazing and huge undertaking."

She added: "What Warner Leisure Hotels are doing is no small feat and it will be fascinating to see the gardens develop as the plans take shape. I have been involved in renovating and enhancing the former grotto first created by Head Gardener Dave West. It will have lots of exciting colours and should be in full bloom by late summer."

The gardens will be open daily from May 3rd to September, and possibly some dates in October dependent on the weather. Children under five go free and the gardens are free to guests staying at the hotel. Tea, coffee and snacks will be available at the Lakeside Tea Rooms and in June a stylish new Italian restaurant, 'Fenocchi's' will open at the former Black Swan pub and restaurant.

For more information visit www.warnerleisurehotels.co.uk/cricket or telephone 0800 1 388 399.

Good enough to eat - sow climbing beans

You only need a windowsill to sow some French or runner beans now, which will be ready for planting out when all danger of frost has passed.

Sow the large seeds individually in 8cm (3in) pots of seed and potting compost as they grow big quite quickly, and ensure that the compost remains moist, but not saturated.

Gradually accustom the young plants to outside conditions for two to three weeks before planting in their final positions from late May.

Make sure the supports, whether it be a wigwam or rows of canes in the veg patch, are in place before planting out and allow 30cm (12in) between plants in the row.

If you want additional colour, plant a few sweetpeas alongside your beans. The sweet-pea flowers will attract bees and therefore give your beans better chance of pollination, so encouraging a greater crop.

Beans should be ready for picking from August to September.

Children clamouring to go to 'Boot Camp'!

FOLLOWING the success of the first 'CONFIDANCE' boot camp weekend a couple of weeks back there is already a waiting list for the next one. You may ask what would make children want to take part in a regime of exercise at 7 a.m., washing up after eating 'healthy' meals and regular 'dorm inspections', well I can tell you the secret...

Olivia Stephenson with Nicole Cutler at Move It

Sara Perry! Sara has been running 'CONFIDANCE', dance / theatrical training classes for children for three years now and with her mixture of professional talent, loving discipline and 'fun' motivational techniques she has gained the respect of all the children under her guidance. After just a few weeks of her classes, shy, awkward children start to blossom into competent performers on stage in front of an audience and some find hidden talent beyond their own belief!

I was privileged to go to the Boot Camp as a singing tutor and witnessed myself the hard work and dedication Sara puts into her pupils. The whole weekend was packed with a full timetable of activities. The twenty children aged from 10 to 15 years of age who attended worked very hard and had lots of opportunity for creativity in group projects presenting their own drama sketches and personal versions of popular songs. I was amazed at the talent shown from everybody. As already said, they also had to adhere to 'house rules' which meant doing chores and keeping their stuff tidy which they all did, without moaning, in fact they appeared to enjoy the discipline

(which was a great leveller) and judging by the eagerness to attend another Boot Camp it was appreciated.

The group is currently working on their new musical 'LOST IN MUSICALS TWO', which is being staged at Seaton Town Hall on Saturday 20th May. This is another original script from Sara and is a follow up to the previous very successful show 'Lost in Musical'. Tickets are now available from The Hobby Shop in Seaton but are limited so I would urge people to get theirs quick so they don't miss out on witnessing the wealth of 'young talent' which is 'CONFIDANCE', they won't regret it!!

Sara says: "Confi-dance is what I call 'not a normal' theatre group as we do seem to attract kids with big emotional issues, learning and behavioural difficulties particularly ones who have a low self esteem. As I have worked as an alternative therapist as well I use my healing skills within the whole set up. I wanted to create something that one helped kids understand the real industry and prepare them for that and two to benefit the kids that just need basic social skills and help them get over their fears of being themselves.

"We have just been to bootcamp in dartmoor which has not only helped with their own talents but has helped them with nutritional problems and other issues.

"In March I took a group of children and adults to the 'Move IT' Expo (2nd Annual trip) in Olympia London. The kids including myself and team took part in various dance workshops learning dances from the hit musicals 'Chicago, Fame and Mama Mia and a few were able to meet and work with Nicole Cutler from 'Strictly Come Dancing' and 'Flawless' from 'Britains Got Talent'.

"All the children are keen to go on more trips like these but due to financial constraints aren't always able to and so I have devised 'Project C' an operation which to help fund these extra activities but also to offer extra training to those who wish to go into theatre as a profession."

Summer Eating Out

The Wheelwright in is an Aladdin's Cave of homely comfort and culinary delights

IT'S not often that one discovers a 'Gastronomical Aladdin's Cave' in the heart of the South West. A genuinely warm and homely welcome, an eyebrow-raising menu selection, masterminded by a close-knit team of chefs who believe passionately that offering the best food revolves entirely around the very freshest, locally sourced ingredients, simply prepared and elegantly presented. "It's as simple as that really" says our Head Chef "we wanted to be honest about what we do in the kitchen, get back to basics with seasonal produce and give diners traditional dishes with a modern twist". And that's exactly what they have done at The Wheelwright, in abundance. Their pan-fried local scallops with black pudding, celeriac and apple puree, is inspired. Roasted loin of monkfish, wrapped in Parma ham served with a glorious shellfish casserole, pure genius. And the panna cotta with spiced plum compote, to die for (many times over). Even their homemade chocolates are sheer delight. "One of our senior chefs here is a confectionary nut, we asked him to really 'push the boat out' and create something totally unique". But you don't have to go for a full sit-down meal. "We have a great selection of very popular deli-boards on offer from our bar menu" says owner Gary Valentine, "or why not just pop in for a chat over a silky smooth latte, you are all more than welcome". For bookings please contact Gary or Toni on 01297 552585.

New price-drop car auction stock exceeds 1,000 units

WITHIN a month of launch, the price-drop auction hosted on the UK Car Exchange website – www.ukcarexchange.com – has quickly established itself as a reputable alternative for sourcing used cars, with stock levels consistently exceeding 1,000 cars. To keep motor traders informed about the models available on the site, including their ever-dropping prices, a new email service has been introduced.

The extensive stock offered on www.ukcarex-change.com has rapidly attracted a strong following, and the stock bulletin comes in direct response to feedback from dealers keen to have a regular update on new listings and daily price drops.

Arriving in subscribers' inboxes each day, the email highlights a wide selection of current trade stock available, enabling registered users to quickly identify which vehicles are suitable for replenishing stock or meeting specific customer requirements.

Tony Hinkley, Managing Director of UK Car Exchange, said, "In a very short period of time, our unique price-drop mechanism has demonstrated that it gives used car buyers the chance to pick up the right cars at the right price. Meanwhile, our registered sellers are enjoying faster stock turnover, thanks to the daily price drops, as well as benefiting from the chance to not only advertise cars but also to sell them through the site.

"The launch of the platform has been timely, in light of the difficulties many in the motor trade are facing in their efforts to locate good quality used cars. We expect our sellers to see particularly quick sales over the coming weeks, as buyers turn to UK Car Exchange for retail-ready stock at very competitive prices."

Registration for the daily stock update can be completed at www.ukcarexchange.com or by calling 0845 519 1499. These contact details can also be used to find out how to get started buying and selling with UK Car Exchange.

Axminster Cricket summary

The summer weather continued as Axminster completed their pre-league season friendlies.

Touring side Cambridge St. Giles proved too strong for the home side, bowling them out for 104 and completing an eight wicket victory in just 20 overs. Danny Larcombe, Ryan Walker and Nick Taylor were the only Axminster batsmen to reach double figures and Taylor then was the only successful bowler taking the two wickets that fell.

The carpet men then lost a local derby with Chard. The visitors were five wickets down with 114 on the board and 12 overs to go but the home attack suffered at the hands of Nick Crew (111no) and Mike Kennedy (61no) as they raced to a total of 244 after their 40 overs. Following the dismissal of openers Dan Murnane and Michael Wakley with 15 overs gone the innings was given some impetus by Saun Perry ((47) and Ryan Walker (54).

The other batsmen however failed to trouble the scorers to any great extent and Axminster finished some 80 runs short.

Portishead Pirates was the innings of Captain Paul Miller (50no) who appeared to be back to fitness, and a run-a-ball knock of 72 from Raul East.

Portishead never really got their reply off the ground and were bowled out for 143 with Raul East wrapping up the tail with 3-13.

Axminster now look forward to the league season starting this Saturday with the 1st XI home to Barnstaple, 3rd XI at home to Clyst Hydon. The 2nd XI have a long trek to Braintree and the 4th team are at Exeter Civil Service.

RESULTS - Week One:

Division One: Visions 25 Flamingos B 15, Wasps 37 Bo-Peeps 22, Flamingos A 48 Sidmouth Toucans 22, Keeley's Angels 39 Uplowman 7.

SHARON Chester had a fine game for Keeley's Angels as they overpowered Uplowman - who for the first time in many years recorded a single figure score.

Flamingos A got off to a fine start with the highest scoring game of the night - a 48-22 win over newly promoted Sidmouth Toucans.

Division Two: Lyme Bay 31 CMC Birds 11, Tip Top Trees Oaks 26 Tip Top Trees Acorns 28.

Lyme Bay, with Emma Franklin in good form, were too strong for CMC Birds for whom the lively Ashley Logan caught the eye.

The Oaks v Acorns game could have gone either way. But the Acorns were pleased to hold on and win by just two points.

AROUND THE BOWLS CLUBS - NEWS AND RESULTS

FENITON with Roger Smith

ON Sunday the Club held its Opening Drive. The vicar the Rev. Cate Edmunds started the season with a blessing for the green and the coming season. This was followed by the President, Mrs. Glenys North bowling the opening wood of the season.

The match that followed was won by the Ladies Captain's team over the Mens Captain's team with a score of +15. The top rink was; I. Veitch, G. North and T. Pyle who won with a score of +19.

The event was the first time that new club clock had been on display. The clock was given by Mrs. C.Granger in memory of her late husband Michael Granger. Michael was a former Club Captain and Chairman of the Bowling Club. He was a much liked, loyal and stalwart member of the Club for more than 15-years and was actively involved in all aspects of Club life, serving on the Committee for many years and also with the organisation Bowling Tours

HONITON with Tony Broughton

BAD news from the men, after a thrilling last ditch effort they lost the Final of the Charles Parrott Shield to Torquay United by just two shots.

Chris Maynard, Bernard Tonkin, Ian Veitch and Kevin Lovering all played well and maintained a somewhat narrow, but useful, seven shot lead throughout. The Ken Clarke, Dave Roberts, Malcolm Seaborne and Eddie Sharman rink struggled against an on form quartet. At 17 ends they were 8-23 down but made a valiant effort in the last four ends with a 1, 3, 2 and 2 to finish 16-23 and level the match at 35 all. Kevin's rink was now on their 20th end and dropped a single. Honiton held shot on the last end but the Torquay number two managed to rest it out to lay shot himself. Ian's first bowl hit the jack but only locked it into the Torquay bowl. His last bowl and Kevin's two needed to move the jack out again to make two to win. A difficult shot to play under pressure and both failed but they did win the rink at 19-14. This is the second year running that Honiton have been runners-up in this competition, maybe next year.

The last final outstanding was the Davis Pairs between Thelma Flynn and Mike Sellick and Gareth Mettam and Sue Evans who came out the winners by five shots.

The ladies finished their season on a high by having two fantastic away results. First beating Budleigh 50 - 28, the top rink was Corinne Galinski, Jenny Wilde, Ann Brown and skip Marian Vessey at 27-12, then a super 67-37 win against Madeira. Top rink that day was Rosemary Hiron, Beryl Walters, Pat Whitworth and skip Julie Grant with 28-8.

Saturday was the last day of the Indoor season and we played a side from Dawlish. This was a 2 shot victory with top rink being Dave Tooley, George Hoare, Eddie Sharman and Shirley Hiscocks.

This was followed in the evening with the presentation of the Indoor Trophies and an American supper. This is the first time trophies have been presented at the end of the season; they are usually done at the annual dinner in the autumn. This is an effort to save time and was a great success

Sunday was a beautiful sunny day for the start of the Outdoor season. Doug Hiron, the Club President opened the green with the traditional first bowl of the season. This was followed by a Spider Competition. All players stand around the edge of the green and on command roll their bowls towards a jack in the centre. Closest to it, after all the banging about, is winner.

This year it was Tony Trembeth who picked up the Whiskey. There then followed a 16 end roll up between 16 rinks of players.

First friendlies of the Outdoor season have been played. First home to Chardstock was a loss by 73-83, the second away to Victoria at Torquay was a win of 74-64. Top rink was John Collins, Sheila Holloway (Torquay), Ann Newman and Eddie Sharman at 21-7.

Seniors Section.

WITH the Seniors the second home inter-club match of the season against Long Sutton brought a further win for Axe Cliff by four and a half v one and a half. Leading from the front the Captain, Gilbert Cox partnered by Mike Tomes won together with Rob Grove/Morrison Brown: John Man/Iain Bain and Chris Walker/John W. White. The half point was won by Peter Knighting/Alan Vincent.

Continuing dry weather produced testing conditions on Friday for the April Stableford in which 32 members participated. The four leading players did manage to master things, none more so than the winner Keith Wilson (11) with an impressive 37 points. Three players returned cards and on countback second place went to Mike Tomes (16) with Jack Bannister (27) edging out Derek Williamson (24) to take third prize. Finally, it was good to see Geoff Hubbard back in action and playing his first competitive round for over six months.

Main Club: On Saturday the B Team played away at Crediton. They had a very enjoyable game but lost the match five and a half to a half. Saving the whitewash was Geoff Greenslade and Phil Hellier.

On Sunday a Three Man Texas Scramble was played. The winners with a nett 56.8 were P. Smith, B. Gray and A.Morgan. Second were; J. Russell, A. Cooper with a nett 57.8

Ladies' Section: On a glorious Spring Morning the Ladies travelled to Wraglington in the heart of Dartmoor for their first league match of the season.

The winners for Axe Cliff were Sandra Walker (16) and Chris Drew (32). However Wraglington were the overall winners four - two. The return match will be played this Monday and the Ladies are hoping for a winning result!

This Wednesday the April Stableford was played. Winner of the First Division was Barbara Cummings (26) with 34 points. Division Two was won by Janet Dack (27) with 31 points.

Chase Bahamas Bounty

A GOLF-trip-of-a-lifetime to the Bahamas awaits amateur Richard Gibbons and his Axe Cliff PGA professional Mack Dack if they can come through the regional final of Europe's biggest pro-am competition, the Virgin Atlantic PGA National Pro-Am Championship supported by SkyCaddie.

The tournament which draws in more than 50,000 competitors from across Great Britain and Ireland is now its 26th competitive year.

Gibbons took his first big step towards a luxury six-day all inclusive trip to the island of Grand Exuma between November 23-28, when he won his club qualifying competition with a nett score of 69.

He and Dack now advance to Parkstone Golf Club on Monday 14 June, one of 16 regional finals, where they will play one round of better-ball medal play. The winning professional in the regional final receives £500, and there are valuable prizes for the top amateurs.

The winners at each regional final throughout Great Britain and Ireland will secure their place on board a Virgin Atlantic jet for the exotic trip and the chance to compete in the Grand Final held on the Greg Norman-designed course at Emerald Reef Golf Club.

The PGA National Pro-Am Championship has a prize fund of £30,000, with the winning professional at the Grand Final taking home a cheque for £5,000.

Richard Gibbons has been playing golf for 20 years and plays off a handicap of 10.

Mack Dack, 41, has been a professional at Axe Cliff for 23 years.

HONITON with Andy Wagner

Men's Stableford

DOES anyone know the collective noun for bunkers? I'm betting on it being "a madness".

You can go weeks and never see one never mind visit one but once you start tipping into those beaches it can feel like there is more sand than grass.

The one redeeming feature was that we were playing a Stableford, a game against the course's par, so, after lighting that Hamlet cigar as in the old advert, you could pick your ball up and carry on.

One player who obviously hasn't experienced the discomfort of sand for weeks is Rob Willey who scored 40pts to take the Division One crown ahead of second placed K. Lloyd and third placed J. Jacobs who both had 39s. Division Two was won by Max Pipe with 38pts, just pipping B. Morrison on count back with G. Richards third with 36pts.

Me? as the Drifters once put it so aptly, "I've still got that sand in my shoes."

Tuesday Mixed: This week the format was the popular Rye Foursomes. 36 members played in sunshine and off the main tees which everyone appreciated after a winter of mats. The winning pair with 39 points on o/b were Jenny Raison and Stan Squire. 2nd also with 39 pts were Sheila Banks and Cyril Dann. 3rd - Gerda Brown and Chris Poole with 38 pts, 4th Avril Shepherd and Paul Ritchie with 37pts.

Ladies Section: In sunshine but with a cold wind the Ladies played the Coronation Foursomes. The winning pair with a very good score of 40pts were President Anne Davies and Diana Gee. 2nd place - Rosemary Greenhorn and Jenny Raison with 38pts. Anne and Diana now qualify to play at Minchinhampton Golf Club in August.

Senior Section: No excuses could be made for a bad round in this weeks Four Ball Better Ball competition as it it was played in perfect conditions. Thirty seven pairs took part competing for the five prizes on offer. Top spot went to the team of Fred Thomas and Trevor Bradley who finished with 44 points, one point clear of second and third placed teams of Brian Elkington and Michael Hunt and Pat Purtell with Mike Peskin. Jim Wallis and Alan Lane were fourth and the Ron Cooper/Morgan Walters combination took fifth spot. "Hole of the Day" could have been awarded to former captain Ron Jones who despite not possessing the lowest handicap these days demonstrated how it should be done by scoring a birdie on the 15th, the most difficult hole on the course.

There were mixed fortunes in the two matches played this week. A win at Axe Cliff by four and a half to two and a half but once again the Sidmouth course proved insurmountable and resulted in a five and a half to one and a half defeat.

FOOTBALL RESULTS, FIXTURES AND TABLES

Devon & Exeter League

SEATON TOWN are champions of Division One and will be a Premier side next season.

The big game between SIDMOUTH TOWN and ST MARTINS finished 1-1 and both teams were relieved not to lose.

The Vikings scored first from Andy Isaac just before the break.

But Nathan Melton then equalised for the champions who still feel they have a great chance of retaining their title.

Sidmouth have a chance to close the gap again when they host FENITON tomorrow night at Manstone Road.

SEATON had the champagne corks popping at BOW AAC where they won 2-0 to clinch the title.

Marcus Wyatt and Dan Norman scored for Seaton but they had to wait until the 80th minute to make sure.

BEER ALBION were 1-0 winners at bottom of the table BEACON KNIGHTS but felt lucky to get all three points.

Beer missed a first half penalty but John Cooper then stepped up to score a second spot-kick.

HONITON TOWN beat UPLOWMAN 3-1 with Tim Genders scoring twice. SIDMOUTH TOWN clinched promotion from Division Three after their 2-1 victory at the ROYAL MARINES.

MATCH REPORTS

St Martins 0 Offwell 2

OFFWELL continued their assault on the top positions when they won 2-0 at St Martins, one of the form teams in Division Four.

The visitors dominated the game and if it wasn't for the home keeper they probably could have gone home at half time. As it was they led by a Chris Webb header and an absolute peach of a volley from Jack Knight from 25-yards.

They failed to score in the second-half but were happy to leave with three points and a clean sheet. Manager Nick Ogden said: "In the first-half we played some breathtaking football and battered them, in the second we couldn't find more goals but I'm happy with the points. We are now at the stage of the season where points matter more than performances, if we can get results in our next three games I will be very happy."

Chris Webb was Ogden's pick as Man-of-the-Match.

South-West Peninsula League

Axminster Town 5 Appledore 2

With Jon Clements
AXMINSTER started well with local lad Ben Vine's pace and skill on the left flank causing all sorts of problems for the Appledore and it was not long before they got their rewards in the 24th minute.

Central defender Mike Hancock made a penetrating run from defence before delightfully chipping the goalkeeper from all of 30-yards.

The goal seemed to restore the confidence which has been missing recently, and it was only a matter of time before they added to their score. The second came in the 35th minute when wide man Jamie ghosted past two defenders and his excellent pass set up Vine who finished off from close range to make the score 2-0 at half-time.

In the second period Appledore came in to the game more but the Tigers were matching their opponents in all areas of the field. In the 61st minute Vine got his second goal when he beat two players down the left flank came inside dummied the goal keeper to make it 3-0.

Appledore striker Adam Copp got his team back into the game in the 70th minute when he was fouled in the box and he duly converted the spot kick. As responded well and midfielder Alex Wheatley scored a penalty when an Appledore defender brought down striker Tom Vincent. In the 85th minute Vincent made his presence felt when he latched on to a through ball and buried his strike into the corner of the net and made it 5-1. In the closing minutes of the game Appledore got a late consolation.

DIVISION TWO

CONGRATULATIONS go to Millway Rise who were crowned Division Two champions for the first time in their history following a 2-1 win at Beaminster Reserves.

The Rise unbeaten record looked in jeopardy as Josh Hunter put the Beaminster ahead. But Ashley Phillips' leveler calmed the visitors' nerves before the interval. And the champagne was removed from the ice when Haydn Lewis netted what proved to be the title clincher.

Honiton mixed U7s & 8s Rugby.
HONITON travelled to nearby Topsham with the home team having 22 players to the visitors eight. As a result the teams played a mini round-robin tournament with Honiton facing three very good Topsham sides, one after another.

In the first game Honiton drew 6-6 with a brace of tries from Sam Steel and Jack Todd plus scores from James Ashby and Lewis Gleed.

In the second game Honiton lost a close game 7-6 with Jack Todd and James Ashby both scoring a brace and Osian Owen and Sam Steel grabbing a try each.

The final match was once again a close affair with Topsham just shading it 7-5. Yet again Jack Todd grabbed a brace along with Lewis Gleed while Ben Deam added the fifth. Man-of-the-Match went to Osian Owen.

More players are required for next season, especially with many of the players moving up to the U9s next year.

Axe Valley Pedallers take to the water

THE Axe Valley Pedallers left the Axe valley for April's Sunday club ride with the meeting point being Dartington Cider Press Centre with the eight riders arriving from several directions writes Alistair Cope.

The sun was shining and the day was promising to get a bit warmer. We all had a hot drink to get us going and then we hit the cycle trail into Totnes - a little bit of off-road along the river was a pleasant start and then it was through Totnes to our first hill, it was pretty steep and long which took us all by surprise! Of course, if you go up you have to come down, so we had a nice descent towards the picturesque village of Ashprington. We carried on along the beautiful River Dart to Dittisham where we stopped for lunch in a popular cafe serving lovely local foods.

After lunch it was time for an exciting river crossing, so after hailing the little ferry boat by ringing a big bell, we trundled our bikes onto the pontoon and managed to squeeze all 8 bikes and riders onto the boat for the five minute crossing to Greenway. After a few more hills we reached Stoke Gabriel, another picturesque village, where we simply had to have another cafe stop in a rather nice place on the river.

We were on the home stretch now heading back towards Totnes, onto the cycle path and back to Dartington where we said our goodbyes. The ride was a total of 26 challenging, but beautiful miles with roughly 1000 metres of climbing.
